My friend Helen will be airlifted to a hospital in Johannesburg, South Africa tonight to have an operation on her pelvis. As far as I know her pelvis is broken and her hip is dislocated. She will have to undergo an operation to repair it, and lie still in bed for a considerable length of time until she heals. Helen's mother is planning to travel to South Africa to be with her, and to bring her home when she is able to travel. Thank you for your prayers.
