

Elton John , the pop-star who was one of the first men to "marry" under the British gay civil-partnerships legislation today urged fellow homosexuals to fight against bigots that discriminate against them. This kind of news concerns me, because the government has now made it illegal to "discriminate" against homosexuality in any way, and through public figures like Elton John pushing the homosexual agenda, Christians in this country could find it a lot harder to remain part of British society.

Quote: "Sir Elton, who turns 60 on Sunday, David Furnish in a civil partnership his legal and human right, adding: wanted to shout about it." But would have been drowned out. women are persecuted and attacked because of who they love and who they "married" long-time partner in 2005. The singer said the union was "And I wanted everyone to know, I he went on: "In some countries, my voice Maybe even stamped out. "Men and every day all over the world, just make love to."

It's not the first time the singer has courted controversy. Not so long ago, he also expressed his desire that organized religion would be banned , because it turned people against homosexuality.

Quote: "On Sunday, November 12, Sir Elton told interviewer (a performer with the group "Scissor Sisters") that he organized effort to suppress institutionalised faith. "From would ban religion completely," the superstar are some wonderful things about it... But religion doesn't seem to work. It turns people not really compassionate."

Jake Shears wants to see an my point of view I declared, "even though there the reality is that organized into hateful lemmings and it's That's something I find very hard to understand. The world expects Christians to be tolerant, just as Christ demonstrated love to all men. And so we should be. Jesus Christ is our greatest example, and no man can out-love God. But when Christians condemn sin for what it is (really the Scriptures condemn it, not Christians), they are slammed as being intolerant bigots. Why? Because Christians believe in moral absolutes (God defines right and wrong, Leviticus 11:44), while men believe in moral that which is right in his own eyes, Judges

Christ was never tolerant of sin, even though He showed compassion and mercy to those who were caught up in it. He did not approve of the lifestyle of the woman at the well (John 4), who had five husbands and was living with another man. Neither did He approve of the woman who was caught in the act of adultery (John 8:4). reason why the Lord had to go to the why Elton John must ban religion, points, because God's Word condemns to be reconciled to God.

relativism (every man doing 17:6). But Jesus

If He did, there would have been no cross and die for our sins. And this is despite believing it has so many good him in his sin and commands him

Source BBC ,

Town Hall